Olá, alunos

Esperamos que todos vocês estejam bem. Precisamos de coragem e comprometimento para vencermos essa fase ruim. Acreditamos na força que cada um de vocês trazem dentro de si. Bons estudos! 😊

Atividades relativas à primeira quinzena de julho de 2020:

Vocês lembram do tempo Futuro com ‘will’?

I will study a lot this weekend.

Will you kiss her cheek?

I will not cheat him.

Agora, vamos lembrar como é formado o tempo Futuro com ‘going to’.

Para isso, leia as páginas 170 e 171 do livro ‘Way to go! – 2’, fornecido pela escola.

Para os alunos que não pegaram o livro na escola, deixaremos a cópia dessas páginas anexadas ao final do trabalho.

Faça os exercícios propostos a seguir, e entregue-os no colégio Manoel Ribas até o dia 15 de julho.

1 - Faça o exercício 1 da página 172;

2 – Passe as frases afirmativas do exercício 1 para as formas negativa e interrogativa.

3 – Leia o pequeno texto a seguir e responda as perguntas que seguem:

How fast will they be?

And what will they do?

Andy Grove, Intel’s chairman, once said that fast means that whatever happens happens in the blink of an eye.

Come 2010, most things will happen in the blink of an eye, and it won’t matter if the data is in your hard disk, on the network in your building, or on the other side of the globe. Everything will happen just about instantly.

What matters most won’t be the megahertz rating of your computer’s CPU or the size of the box (though it will be smaller, for sure) but what your PC will do for you. Expect the computer and its agents to automate many of the tasks you now do manually. In other words, the PC will be a real time-saver and even a brain amplifier.

( From PC magazine, June 1998)

Os exercícios a seguir e o texto acima foram retirados (e adaptados) do livro ‘New English point – ensino médio – book 2’, 1 ed. 1999.

d- How will computers handle a lot of tasks people do manually?
